BASIS FOR REJECTIONS

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS ON FORMAL MATTERS

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Reference is made to “bottom of the concavity”, “bottom”, “bottom concavity” and “concavity”, which appear to be different areas of the claimed subject matter. This is confusing because of the similarly used terms to describe different areas of the device or method. Accordingly, clearly labeling the different parts with distinct labels would overcome the indefiniteness. As to claim 2, failure to provide antecedence for “margins” renders the subject matter indefinite. Further, the phrase “lead frame is hold between the fabricating face” is also difficult to understand. With reference to claims 2 and 5, the “die pad” 101 is located so that the support bars 102 straddle the “concavity” 7c when the lead frame is placed on the flat face of the die.

REJECTION OF CLAIMS OVER PRIOR ART

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kashiwagi (5,271,146). See Figure 3A where the die 7 cooperates with a punch 13. The die has a flat face on the projections 7b and 7a, a concavity 7b that is dented relative to the flat face and a fabricating face interposed between the bottom of the concavity 7c and the flat surface of the projection 7a. The punch 13 is provided with fabricating faces 13a. The bottom of the concavity 7c of the die is an annular recess and surrounds the "bottom concavity" (unlabeled) that supports the body 101. The "bottom concavity" is "dented relative to the bottom" 7c since the projection 7a establishes this dent within the bottom of the concavity 7c.

PRIOR ART CITED BY EXAMINER

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

RESPONSE BY APPLICANT(S)

Applicant(s) response to be fully responsive and to provide for a clear record must specifically point out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references, both those references applied in the objections and rejections and those references cited in view of the state of the art in accordance with 37 CFR 1.111 (a), (b) and (c).
